Alonso Forwarding Sri Lanka

Alonso Forwarding Sri Lanka, with an office in the capital, Colombo, is Alonso's branch in Sri Lanka, an island nation in South Asia strategically located in the Indian Ocean. Its proximity to major international shipping routes facilitates trade connections between Asia, Europe and the Middle East.

Sri Lanka, with a population of around 23 million, has an economy driven by sectors such as textiles, tea, spices, rubber and tourism. Its strategic location in the Indian Ocean, together with key port infrastructure and a road network connecting major logistics hubs, supports international trade.

The port of Colombo, one of South Asia's leading container transshipment hubs, strengthens the country's role as a key link between maritime trade routes connecting Asia, Europe and the Middle East.

The branch provides logistics services including air, ocean and road freight, customs clearance, warehousing and distribution for all types of cargo.

Alonso | FORWARDING SRI LANKA

Sri Lanka, the “Pearl of the Indian Ocean”

Its location in the Indian Ocean makes Sri Lanka an important connection point for international maritime traffic and trade flows between major Asian and Western markets. The port of Colombo, one of South Asia’s leading container transshipment hubs, facilitates connections between major shipping lines and international markets. This infrastructure is complemented by Bandaranaike International Airport (CMB), the country’s main gateway for air cargo, and a road network connecting its main ports and logistics hubs. These infrastructures support multimodal transport and position Sri Lanka as a strategic hub for regional freight distribution.

Our branches

Sri Lanka

The Alonso Forwarding Sri Lanka branch is an example of the strength and extensive global reach of the Alonso Forwarding network across five continents. This network enables the company to provide global solutions tailored to each customer’s needs, combining international coverage with in-depth knowledge of local markets. This facilitates the management of international operations, shipment tracking and the development of efficient logistics solutions.
